

Press release

22 January 2024, Neuss

On 19 December 2023, Creditreform Rating AG published for consultation its new rating methodology “Residential Mortgage Backed Securities” (Version 1.0). This methodology outlines our approach to issuances that are securitized by a large pool of residential mortgages.

Creditreform Rating AG did not receive any comments during the consultation phase and no changes were made to the document published for this consultation.

The new rating methodology “Residential Mortgage Backed Securities” (Version 1.0) will therefore take effect on 22 January 2024 and will be applied by Creditreform Rating AG.
